The National Association of Health Underwriters Presents Landmark Award to NCAHU

The National Association of Health Underwriters (NAHU) presented the North Carolina Association of Health Underwriters (NCAHU) with its Landmark Award at their National Convention in Las Vegas, NV. The Landmark Award honors state chapters for outstanding achievements and excellence in serving their members, the industry, and the public. Jim Deese, 2011-2102 NCAHU President, accepted the award.

“The North Carolina Association of Health Underwriters is committed to the consumers of our state. We endeavor to assist our clients and friends while they navigate the rapidly changing landscape which is Health Care Reform. As dedicated agents and brokers, our members have access to recourses and tools which help define their professionalism and offer them an advantage when educating their clients regarding the future of employee benefits. For me to represent our members during the recent NAHU Annual Convention was a tremendous honor. In addition, for NCAHU to be presented the Landmark Award shows that our members are regarded as being among of the best and brightest in the country.”

The National Association of Health Underwriters represents more than 100,000 professional health insurance agents and brokers who provide insurance for millions of Americans. The North Carolina Association has seven local chapters located throughout the state.
